the the ultimate exterior hardwood shutter

ultra weather resistant expertly matched finishes genuine american hardwood

The sturdiest, most weather-resistant exterior wooden shutter available anywhere

the very best

When you buy an O'Hair shutter, you are investing in the very best hardwood shutter available. For three quarters of a century and four generations of the O'Hair family, we have maintained a tradition that includes meticulous attention to detail, precision engineering, superior materials, and rock-solid construction.

superior construction

Our shutters are made in America from genuine American hardwood and feature the ideal blend of computer-controlled precision and traditional reinforced joinery. In addition to their unusually strong construction, O'Hair Exteriors™ are heat treated to resist pests and extremes in humidity and temperature.

The frames of our shutters feature screw-reinforced mortise-and-tenon joinery. Our louvers do not connect to the frame by plastic pins but by monolithic tenons that are carved from the louver itself. Our reinforced tilt rods are permanently attached to the louvers via a continuous metal linkage. Movable louver designs are fully adjustable via our brass-reinforced StabiLouver™ tension system, and can be locked down at any angle.

wide selection

O'Hair Exteriors™ are available in virtually any combination of fixed, movable and raised panel designs. Individual panels are offered in spans from 9" to 50" and heights from 12" up to a soaring 133". Louver spacings range from the classically narrow 1.5" to an impressive 5". A generous selection of mounting options are available, ranging from fixed to fully functional, including Bahama mounts.

custom designed

Considering the variety in exterior coverings of homes and the occasional irregularity of window openings, a precise fit is a key issue. With O'Hair, each shutter is custom designed to fit each individual window or door, ensuring a precise fit. With the wide range of configurations and mounting options, in combination with their extreme durability, O'Hair Exteriors™ are the ideal choice for custom designed outdoor living spaces.

beautiful finishes

Our painted finishes feature ultra-durable KEM Aqua® BP enamel* paints that are custom blended to precisely match the existing décor. A selection of stained finishes is also available.
